

New Product Idea Disclosure

Thank you for disclosing your idea to us. We at Calculated Industries appreciate your help in developing new and exciting products!

Please read the following, sign below, and return this form with your disclosure.

1. We prefer new product ideas that are covered by an existing patent or pending patent application and we urge you to take the proper steps to protect your idea. You should consult an attorney and, if appropriate, file a patent application before submitting your idea to us. If you do not have valid rights in the idea, we may be free to use the idea.
2. If you have a patent or a patent application for your idea, please send us a copy of the patent or patent application including drawings, specification, and claims along with any patent search results or prior art you may have.
3. If you do not have a patent or patent application, please send us a complete written description of your idea. Please include drawings or photographs of prototypes.
4. By disclosing your idea to us, you are not granting us any rights you may have. However, you are freely disclosing your idea without an agreement, whether expressed or implied, to compensate you in any way. We have made no promises to you in return for your disclosure.
5. There is no confidential or other special relationship between us. We are not required to keep the idea secret and may disclose it to others.
6. We are not required to return the materials you submit. Please keep a copy of the materials for your records.
7. Our employees and contractors have worked on many different ideas over the years and may have already thought of your idea.
8. If we like your idea, we may contact you to discuss it further. We are not required to perform a complete review of the invention or to inform you of our review.
